The local stock and security market becomes dulier each day, and with the exception of a transaction of $4000 in old city bonds, indorsed by the State of Tennesses, which was sold by a dealer at 5%, scarcely anything was doing. There was a drawner at the factories of 3c, agents who have been an advance at the factories of 3c, agents who have been and advance at the factories of 3c, agents who have been an advance at th the banks.

The market was less suimated than for the past three days, owing to the condition of the New York market, that market having declined in the past two days for and dull. This decline has occurred in the face of a decrease of receipts for the week of 80,000 bales. Cotton men can give but one reason for this decline, and that is: that operators in New York are forcing down prices to buy "paper cotton" low. If such is the case, and so it would assem, when "spot" moves up there will be much excitement in the market, "bears" turning "bulls" and forcing prices up, will unload at a hand-some profit. This is evidently the game they are playing, and the consequences are a duil market at the present on "apot." Here, this market is free from this apscice of gambling, but the effect is felt even here. A reaction is anticipated, and an sective market is signi hooked for in a few days. Factors were firm at prices about an %50 lower than yesterday. There was days. Factors were firm at prices about an 1/2 lower than yesterday. There was no anxiety on the part of factors to realise, several of whom refused fair prices on tables, but who did not consider the offers up to the market. Receipts for six days at all the ports were 48,088 bales, pointing to 52,000 bales for the week against 136,000 bales corresponding time last bales corresponding time last year. We quote:

TRADE. The weather was very fair, but trade was only moderate. For the past few days market, but it is one of those lulis that is immediately followed with an active market. From the best information we can gather we learn that merchants from the interior are making preparations to purinterior are making preparations to purchase their spring stocks, many of whom are already purchasing. These purchases will be largely in excess of last year, as the demand is more extensive. Money is in better supply. Cotton has been high and both merchants and planters have realised handsome profits, and money will soon become a drag on the market.

Already we hear of certain investments.
